

NEWS

SPORTS

WEATHER

OPINION

BUSINESS

ACCENT

CLASSIFIEDS

CONTACT US

STORIES: ARCHIVE

back to SEARCH RESULTS

Printable text version | Mail this to a friend

September 22, 2003

TIM Schmitt of Eden Prairie, Minn. readies "Al", middleweight (120 lb.) robot, for competition during the Robotic Survival Series "King of the Robot Island" tournament at the Castaways indoor events center. Over 50 entrants from across the country gathered to battle with radio-controlled robots ranging in weight from 12 lbs. to 220 lbs., said organizer Phoenix Blaze. Winners shared about $4000 in prize money and are qualified to enter the Robot Fighting League national tournament, he said. Operators win by disabling their opponent's robot or by demonstrating their superior driving skills in a competition similar to a demolition derby.

Steve Marcus / LAS VEGAS SUN

Return to the story.

Printable text version | Mail this to a friend

Las Vegas SUN main page

Questions or problems? Click here.

Read our policy on cookies and privacy. Click here.

All contents copyright Las Vegas SUN, Inc.

Nevada's largest website

Showbiz Weekly
Las Vegas Weekly
Las Vegas Life
Hotel Resorts